Profile:

Motivated, self-disciplined, flexible, well organized, diplomatic and grounded, that's the best way to describe myself in professional manners. Coming from an acting background and loving the film making, I've started my crew career quite recently at the film making internship at Nu Boyana Film Studios. Where I have expanded my knowledge and skills, as well as contacts in vary departments. I've continued deeper as a script supervisor and already worked with some big names now: Sylvester Stallone in 'Rambo 5: Last Blood', (8 weeks shoot); Timothy Spall and Peter Stormare in 'The Obscure Life of the Grand Duke of Corsica' (4 weeks shoot).

For me film is another lifetime experience. It makes me feel grounded and flying at the same time. I love working on set and am flexible to fit in vary departments because of my acting nature. I easily make strong relationships through all departments. My experience in producing short films, documentary etc. adds to the overall perspective of my character.
